Paying for Care and Support

There are a number of ways of paying for care and support. Some people will receive funding or are funded for our services via a care package paid by social services, via a personal budget or through private/self-funding.

Direct Payments

Direct Payments are paid to people with assessed care needs so that they can choose, arrange and pay for their own care services. Direct Payments make it possible for people to have more choice and control over the type of help and support they need. If you are in receipt of Direct Payments and wish to purchase our services, please contact us.
